Project Scope

A complete 42,000 sq ft interior office upgrade to attract and retain talent at Ball Horticultural Company. The design was focused on the penetration of natural light, soothing colors and an open work environment to increase collaboration among departments while creating an enjoyable and productive work environment. Ergonomically designed workstations and private offices with sit-to-stand desks were utilized to promote employee health, along with a variety of conference and collaboration spaces to also support various types of meetings.

Environmental branding was incorporated throughout the space to showcase Ball Horticultural Company's rich family history. The color palette for the space was inspired by the various floral seeds that Ball offers with rich hues of red, violet, coral, yellow and green that inject energy into an otherwise neutral canvas backdrop. The modern design is both warm and residential to appeal to Ball Horticultural Company's employees and visitors. Construction occurred in four phases to accommodate the continuing operation of the business. The project included a Head House and Pole Barn Addition, site and landscape improvements, parking improvements, and new Quonset Huts
